It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

FIRST GENERAL REPORT

TO HER MAJESTY,

FROM

THE ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS FOR ENGLAND;

WITH

AN APPENDIX.

Dated 24th June 1845.

FIRST GENERAL REPORT.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS FOR ENGLAND, in humbly presenting to Your Majesty their First General Report, feel it their duty to offer some prefatory statements concerning the origin and nature of their Constitution, and the various Duties from time to time assigned to them.

In August 1836, by the Act of the sixth and seventh years of the reign of His late Majesty King William the Fourth,* the members of the Commission of Church Inquiry, originally issued by the Crown on the 4th of February 1835, and renewed on the 6th of June following, were constituted a Perpetual Corporation by the name of the "Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England," with power to hold real property, notwithstanding the Statutes of Mortmain. The immediate purpose of that Act was to carry into effect the recommendations of the Commissioners of Inquiry, as embodied in their First and Third Reports, dated the 17th of March 1835, and the 20th of May 1836, relating to the re-arrangement of the Dioceses in England and Wales, and the re-distribution of the Episcopal revenues.

* 6 & 7 Will. IV. c. 77.

The Corporation, as originally constituted, consisted of thirteen members, of whom five were episcopal; viz., the two Archbishops and the Bishop of London ex officio, and two bishops, to be replaced by the Crown from among the bishops generally; five ex officio members of the Government; and three laymen, to be also replaced by the Crown.

In August 1840, the Act of the third and fourth years of Your Majesty's reign was passed;* its chief object being, to carry into effect the remaining recommendations of the same Royal Commission, embodied in the Second and Fourth Reports, dated the 4th of March and the 24th of June 1836, and in the Draft of a Fifth Report remaining unsigned when the Commission expired in December 1837, in consequence of the demise of the Crown; and to establish, out of the surplus Cathedral Revenues, a fund to be applied to the purpose of making better provision for the cure of souls.

The constitution of the Board was materially changed by the last-mentioned Act, under the provisions of which the Corporation now includes, ex officio, the two Archbishops, five members of the Government, all the bishops of England and Wales, three deans, and six common law, equity, and ecclesiastical judges,—together with eight permanent lay commissioners, six of whom are in the appointment of the Crown and two in that of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Other Acts have since been passed, applying wholly or in part to the Commissioners, whose various powers and duties now rest upon the Statutes enumerated in the Appendix to this Report, No. 1.

For carrying into effect most of the provisions of these several Acts, the Commissioners prepare and lay Schemes before Your Majesty in Council, and the Acts give full legal validity to Orders of Your Majesty in Council, for ratifying such Schemes, when published in the "London Gazette." Under the direction of the Acts, copies of these Orders in Council are periodically laid before both Houses of Parliament.*

So far as was consistent with vested interests, which are carefully protected in all the Acts, the Commissioners proceeded, immediately upon their incorporation, to make provision, under the authority of the first-mentioned Act,† for re-arranging the limits of the several dioceses; for the union of the Sees of Gloucester and Bristol; and thereupon for the immediate foundation of the new See of Ripon. They have also since provided for the future creation of the new See of Manchester, upon the union of the Sees of St. Asaph and Bangor. The territorial changes hitherto ratified by Orders of Your Majesty in Council, distinguishing those in actual operation from those which are prospective only, appear in the Appendix, No. 2.

Having also obtained the best information which could be procured respecting the then average Revenues of the several Bishopricks, the Commissioners proceeded, with the same regard to vested interests, to carry out the financial arrangements of the same Act, by which fixed annual payments are to be made out of the Revenues of the larger Bishopricks, in aid of the insufficient Revenues of other Sees. The payments so made to the Commissioners are carried to a Fund termed the Episcopal Fund. All that has been done under this head, with an account of that fund, made up to the 1st January last, appears in the Appendix, Nos. 3 and 4.

A revision of Episcopal receipts and payments, founded upon new septennial returns under the same Act, completed to the 31st of December 1843, is now under consideration by the Commissioners. A vacancy having recently occurred in the See of Ely, and the revenues appearing, upon the new return, to be capable of bearing a larger contribution than that originally fixed, provision has been made for charging the bishop with an increased annual payment.

Representations have been made to the Commissioners of the uncertainty and consequent inconvenience resulting from the provisions of the existing Acts of Parliament, under which the Episcopal incomes are arranged arranged; and the Commissioners think that some alteration of the Law upon this subject may be hereafter advisable.

In execution of certain powers vested in them by the same Act, the Commissioners have provided new Episcopal residences, in the cases stated in the Appendix, No. 5.

Under the Acts of the third and fourth and the fourth and fifth years of Your Majesty's reign respectively,* the emoluments of all Suspended Canonries (except in the cases of Lichfield, Chester, and Ripon, where they fall into the divisible revenues of the Chapter) are paid to the Commissioners; the corporate estates of the Cathedrals still remaining under the absolute control of the Chapters, liable only to payments to the Commissioners of the proportions belonging to such suspended canonries;—the whole endowments of non-residentiary prebends, dignities, and offices, with a few specified exceptions, and the separate estates hitherto held by deans and canons in certain Chapters, are, upon the respective vacancies, vested in the Commissioners;—and all Sinecure Rectories in public patronage are suppressed as they become vacant, and their endowments also vested in the Commissioners. The canonries already suspended,—the non-residentiary prebends, dignities, and offices, vacated,—and the sinecure rectories suppressed, are enumerated respectively in the Appendix, Nos. 6, 7, and 8.

* 3 & 4 Vict. c. 113; 4 & 5 Vict. c. 89.

The monies arising under the two last-mentioned Acts are carried to a Fund called the Common Fund; and the main purpose, for which the Commissioners are intrusted with these revenues, is defined to be, that of making better provision for the cure of souls in parishes where such assistance is most required;* with an express direction, in the case of tithes actually vested in the Commissioners, to give due consideration to the wants and circumstances of the places in which they arise.

The copy of a return made to an Order of the House of Commons in 1843, which contains the account of both Funds from the passing of the first Act in 1836 to the close of the year 1842, and further accounts of the Common Fund, for the years 1843 and 1844 respectively, and of the Stock belonging to the same Fund, standing in the names of the Commissioners on the 31st of December 1844, are contained in the Appendix, Nos. 9, 10, and 11.

At as early a period as possible after the passing of the Act of the third and fourth years of Your Majesty's reign,† the Commissioners proceeded to lay down general rules respecting the distribution of the Common Fund. They at first resolved to recommend to Your Majesty in Council that the annual incomes of Benefices and Churches in Public patronage,‡ with a population of not less than two thousand, should, subject to certain conditions and reservations, be raised to one hundred and fifty pounds; and that, under certain limitations, grants should also be made to meet benefactions towards augmenting the incomes of such as were in Private patronage. As their revenues increased, they from time to time proposed to admit to the benefit of augmentation other Benefices and Churches, according to an extended scale of population and income, which appears in the Resolutions ultimately adopted, as set forth in the Appendix, No. 12.

A detailed List of all the Benefices and Churches already augmented under this class of resolutions, with a Summary of the several results, is given in the Appendix, No. 13.

In addition to grants in augmentation of income, the Commissioners determined by the same Resolutions to contribute also, on certain conditions, to the building of Residence houses for the clergy. All that has been done under this head will be found in the Appendix, No. 14.

In the autumn of last year, in consequence of the insufficiency of funds to meet the unexpected extent of applications addressed to them under the Resolutions before referred to, the Commissioners found themselves under the necessity of suspending their grants, except in very special cases; and they accordingly passed certain further Resolutions, which will be found in the Appendix, No. 15.

In August 1843, the Act of the sixth and seventh

years of Your Majesty's reign,* intituled, "An Act to make better provision for the spiritual care of populous parishes," assigned additional and important duties to the Commissioners. The calculations upon which this Act was based, appear in a Memorandum which accompanied the Bill while in the House of Lords, and a copy of which is contained in the Appendix to this Report, No. 16.

Soon after the passing of this Act, and under its authority, the Commissioners borrowed from the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty, six hundred thousand pounds three pounds per centum Reduced Bank Annuities; and after carefully deliberating as to the extent of the means thus provided and the probable demands upon them, the Commissioners determined to limit the grants to new Districts, each containing a population of not less than two thousand.

Provision has already been thus made for above two hundred ministers, in carefully selected Districts, which become Parishes upon churches being provided and consecrated. Lists of such Districts as have been actually constituted, and of those determined upon but not yet completed, are inserted in the Appendix, Nos. 17 and 18.

The Commissioners have alluded to the necessity, which arose last year, for suspending grants under their general Resolutions. A similar necessity occurred respecting grants under the last-mentioned Act, in the early part of the present year, upon their having so agreed to constitute and endow above two hundred new

* 6 & 7 Vict. c. 37.

Districts; thereby creating as large a new perpetual liability as, according to the calculations already referred to, could be safely incurred. There then remained nearly one hundred additional applications, and several others have subsequently been made to the Commissioners. A List of all these applications appears in the Appendix, No. 19.

In this emergency of twofold pressure, on the one hand in behalf of existing churches, many of which were built in reliance on the Commissioners' published Resolutions, and on the other in behalf of populous districts still remaining unprovided with adequate pastoral superintendence, the Commissioners have deemed it advisable to extend the principle of Anticipation recognized by the same Act; and having satisfied themselves, by further calculations respecting the actual value of their property, that this may safely be done, they have applied to the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty for a further loan, the negotiation for which is still pending.

Notwithstanding the large amount of benefit already conferred by the distribution of their revenues, the Commissioners cannot withhold the expression of their deep regret, that the limited amount of their present means, even after the expedients for increasing them, to which under the sanction of the Legislature they have deemed it right to resort, must still leave untouched a considerable portion of that Spiritual Destitution, the removal of which was the main object of the Crown in issuing the original Commission of Inquiry, and of Parliament in confirming its recommendations.

A very

A very large proportion of the Real Estates, vested in the Commissioners under the Cathedral Acts, have been held, for long periods, under leases for lives or years renewable upon fines.

The Commissioners do not deem it expedient to enter upon the questions which have, from time to time, been raised respecting this species of property.

They felt, however, from the first, that the possession of these estates, especially to so large an amount, involved the duty of carefully considering the principles upon which they should be managed and the proper mode of dealing with the tenure upon which they were held by the Lessees; and they felt also that these questions were deeply affected by the responsibilities which the Legislature had devolved upon them, as Trustees for the general benefit of the Church, and more especially of the Parochial clergy.

The Commissioners arrived at the conclusion, that it would not be consistent with their duty, to continue the practice of renewing beneficial Leases upon the receipt of casual and uncertain fines; and they determined accordingly. They, however, resolved at the same time not to sell or let an estate, in any case, without giving to the existing Lessee an option of purchasing or renting the property.

After full reconsideration of the whole subject, the Commissioners adopted certain Resolutions, which have been recently presented to both Houses of Parliament, and which appear in the Appendix to this Report, No. 20.

Other

Other duties of considerable importance have been intrusted to the Commissioners, amongst which are the following:—

The re-arrangement of Archdeaconries, and the creation of new Archdeaconries; and the providing of endowments for these and for the ill-endowed existing Archdeaconries. All that has been already done under this head is described in the Appendix, Nos. 21, 22, and 23.

A special provision was contained in the Act before mentioned of the third and fourth years of Your Majesty's reign,* for increasing the endowment of the University of Durham; and what has been done in this respect is stated in the Appendix, No. 24.

The Commissioners have power, under the Act of the fifth and sixth years of Your Majesty's reign,† to authorize long Leases, by various Ecclesiastical Corporations, of parts of their property, for Building and Mining purposes, upon terms not only beneficial to the incumbents and their successors, but conducive to the increase of the funds of which the Commissioners are trustees. A list of the several cases in which this power has been already exercised appears in the Appendix, No. 25.

The Commissioners venture to express a hope, that the several proceedings herein reported will meet with

* 3 & 4 Vict. c. 113.

† 5 & 6 Vict. c. 108.

the approval of Your Majesty, as conducing to the efficiency of the Church, and to the Spiritual welfare of a large number of Your Majesty's subjects.

All which is humbly reported to Your Majesty, by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England.

In witness whereof the said Commissioners have hereunto affixed their Common Seal, this Twenty-fourth day of June, in the year 1845.

Note.—In the three last preceding Tables, the dates of some of the vacancies are antecedent to the passing of the first Cathedral Act. This is accounted for by the circumstance that, by a series of Acts commencing soon after the issuing of the first Royal Commission of Inquiry in 1835, the appointment to all sinecure rectories in public patronage, to non-residentiary cathedral preferments, and to all canonries above a specified number, had been suspended from session to session, and the proceeds directed to be received and held in trust by the Treasurer of Queen Anne's Bounty, who has since paid them to the Commissioners, under the provisions of the Statute.

No. 12.

RESOLUTIONS respecting AUGMENTATION GRANTS, 27th February 1844.

The Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, having further considered how provision may best be made for the Cure of souls, out of the limited amount of monies at present at their disposal, in conformity with the intent and meaning of the Acts 3 & 4 Vict. c. 113., and 4 & 5 Vict. c. 39., have resolved to recommend to Her Majesty in Council:

That Grants be made, either in Augmentation of the Incomes of, or towards providing fit Houses of Residence for, the incumbents of certain benefices and churches, with cure of souls, that is to say, being either parish churches or churches or chapels with districts legally belonging or assigned thereto; in certain classes; subject to such limitations, as are hereinafter mentioned, or as may from time to time be determined on; the Commissioners reserving to themselves a right to decline recommending a grant, in any case in which from special circumstances they shall be of opinion that it is not expedient:

That the FIRST CLASS consist of grants in augmentation of income, made unconditionally, to benefices or churches with cure of souls as aforesaid, being in Public patronage, namely, in the patronage of Her Majesty, either in right of the Crown or of the Duchy of Lancaster, of the Duke of Cornwall, of any archbishop or bishop, of any dean and chapter, dean, arch-deacon, prebendary, or other dignitary or officer in any cathedral

or collegiate church, or of any rector, vicar, or perpetual curate, as such;—and that this class of grants be for the present limited to raising the average annual net incomes to the following amounts respectively, according to the scale of population prefixed thereto; viz.:—

Population amounting to 2000,	—	Income £150.
„ „ 1000,	—	„ „ 120.
„ „ 500,	—	„ „ 100.
„ below 500,	—	„ „ 80.

That the SECOND CLASS consist of grants, as well in augmentation of income, as towards providing fit houses of residence or sites for such houses, made to benefices or churches with cure of souls as aforesaid; whether in public patronage as aforesaid, or in private patronage, namely, any patronage whatsoever other than as aforesaid; upon condition of such grants being met by benefactions from other sources;—and that this class of grants be for the present limited to cases where the income is below 200*l*.

That the THIRD CLASS consist of grants, either in augmentation of income or to provide fit houses of residence, made to benefices or churches with cure of souls as aforesaid, in consideration of their being situate within the places, in which any tithes vested in the Commissioners,* or any tithes in lieu of which lands or other hereditaments vested in them were allotted or assigned, arise or have heretofore arisen, such grants not, in any case, exceeding the actual value of the tithes, lands or other hereditaments, in respect of which the same shall be made.

That the FOURTH CLASS consist of grants to benefices and churches, by way of compensation to the incumbents, for loss of fees appropriated to district churches augmented by the Commissioners.

By order of the Board,

C. K. MURRAY,

Treasurer and Secretary.

* Benefices or Churches situate in places in which tithes belonging to any Ecclesiastical Corporation aggregate arise, do not come within this class, although the Commissioners may be in receipt of a share of the revenues of such Corporation.

Rules

Rules and Instructions.

1. Application to the Commissioners for a grant under the foregoing Resolutions may be made at any time of the year, and must be in writing; but no particular form is required.

2. A grant in augmentation of income will not prevent a contemporaneous or subsequent grant towards providing a house of residence, nor vice versâ; nor will the one grant be affected by the other, in amount or otherwise.

3. In meeting benefactions, whether in augmentation of income or towards providing a house of residence, the Commissioners will, as a general rule, make a grant, equal to the benefaction in the case of a church in public patronage, and in the proportion of two to three to the benefaction in the case of a church in private patronage.

4. A benefaction from trustees, or from any society or body of contributors, as well as from any individual, whether such benefaction consist of money, land, house, site for a house, tithe, or rent-charge, any or all, may be met by a grant from the Commissioners, either in augmentation of income or towards providing a residence, or both:—but neither a grant from Queen Anne's Bounty,—nor a benefaction already met by such a grant,—nor money borrowed of Queen Anne's Bounty,—nor a charge upon the revenues of any Ecclesiastical Corporation aggregate or sole,—nor any endowment, gift, or benefaction already secured to a benefice or church,—can be met by a grant from the Commissioners.

5. Every house proposed to be purchased must be surveyed by the architect of the Commissioners, and every new house must be built according to his designs and under his exclusive superintendence, the Commissioners entering into the necessary contracts.

6. The accommodation, in houses to be built, will comprise two sitting-rooms sixteen feet by fourteen each, a study about twelve or thirteen feet square, kitchen, scullery, and usual offices of corresponding dimensions, and six bed-rooms; the plans being prepared, in each case, with due regard to the peculiarities of the site and the wishes of the incumbent. The estimated average cost of building and completing such a house (including

(including painting, papering, grates, bells, &c.) being about 1000*l.*, the benefaction required will, according to the above rule of proportion (No. 2), be about 500*l.* in cases of public patronage, and about 600*l.* in cases of private patronage; besides any benefaction which may be required towards the site.

7. As, however, such a house may, in some parts of the country, be built for less than 1000*l.*, any surplus of the benefaction and grant may be applied to the permanent augmentation of the income, or the surplus of the benefaction may be appropriated towards any expenses incurred by the incumbent in improving the premises, upon a certificate from the architect that the works were desirable, and have been properly performed: and, on the other hand, in case of a deficiency, a further benefaction will be necessary, to be met by a further grant in the same proportion.

8. After the plans shall have been settled and the entire cost ascertained, but before the works are commenced, moderate additions may be permitted; provided they do not involve alteration of the general plan, and that the party requiring such additions is prepared to pay the whole expense of and incidental thereto. Stabling may also be added on the same terms.

9. All money benefactions must be paid to the Commissioners, and benefactions of any other kind must be fully secured to the living, or conveyed to the Commissioners in trust for the living, as the case may be, before any grant can be made in augmentation of income, or any contract entered into or other step taken by the Commissioners, towards purchasing a house or site, or building a house.

10. The title to any house, land, tithe, or rent-charge to be given or purchased under the foregoing Resolutions and Rules, must be investigated by the solicitors to the Commissioners, and the conveyance prepared by them.

11. Neither the incumbent, nor any other person on behalf of the benefice, will be subjected to any solicitor's or architect's charges, unless under special circumstances, nor to any other costs or expenses.

RESOLUTIONS adopted at the General Meeting of the Commissioners, held 6th August 1844.

THAT, until further public notice, the published Resolutions of the Commissioners, relating to grants out of their funds, be suspended ; except in the case of local claims upon tithes, &c., and except also as herein-after mentioned.

That applications for grants in augmentation of income be entertained, in the case of new churches, already built, or in course of building, or the whole means of building which shall have been provided on or before the first day of August instant, in expectation of aid from the Commissioners ; and that all such applications, if made before the 1st October next, be respectively taken into consideration, as early as the state of the funds will allow.

That a copy of these Resolutions be transmitted to each Bishop, with a request for the earliest information in his power as to the probable number of such applications in his diocese.

No. 16.

COPY of a MEMORANDUM which accompanied the BILL of the Session 1843, " to make better PROVISION for the CURE of SOULS in POPULOUS PARISHES."

IN order to supply an immediate Fund " to make better provision for the spiritual care of populous parishes," this Bill enacts, that the Governors of Queen Anne's Bounty may forthwith transfer the sum of 600,000*l.*, of their Parliamentary Grants Fund, to the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England ; and that this capital stock may be used by the Commissioners, as income, under Schemes and Orders in Council ; the intention being thus to create immediate permanent endowments or augmentations to the extent of 30,000*l.* sterling per annum.

To meet the Clergy Payments, now annually made by the Bounty Board by means of the dividends of this stock, the Commissioners are to pay to them the amount of those dividends, half-yearly ; being relieved (so long as the dividends are paid) from replacing the principal stock, unless required to do so after thirty years.

Power

Power is given to the Bounty Board to lend, if they see fit, and to the Commissioners to borrow, further sums of the same stock, upon the same terms.

As the security for the due payment of the dividends, and for a return of the principal, upon a requisition after thirty years, or at any previous time if the dividends are not regularly paid, the Bill creates a mortgage upon the whole of the property vested and to be vested in the Commissioners, with a simple mode of legal remedy; and to render this security incapable of being materially reduced in value, it guards the Commissioners' powers of leasing and alienation, by enacting that all fines and all purchase monies received by them shall, unless applied in replacing the stock, be treated as capital, and be, as soon as convenient, re-invested in land.

In order to justify the proposed arrangement, it has been shown, by careful and elaborate calculations made by Mr. Morgan, that the revenues of the Commissioners will be sufficient, not only to redeem all the pledges already given by their own published resolutions, and moreover to provide for the due payment of the dividends upon the borrowed stock, but also to take upon themselves, when that stock shall be exhausted, the whole newly created perpetual annuity of 30,000*l*.

It has been estimated that, in 1860, the probable value of the estates already vested in the Commissioners will be above 900,000*l*.; which will purchase (assuming 90*l*. as the medium price of 3 per cent. stock) the required perpetual annuity of 30,000*l*.

The pledges already given by the Commissioners may be stated as within 30,000*l*., but say 32,000*l*. per annum; and if to this be added the 18,000*l*. dividends upon the stock borrowed, the total additional amount of charge, accruing by uncertain increments as to the 32,000*l*., and by increments of 1,000*l*. per annum as to the 18,000*l*., will be 50,000*l*.

Now a calculation has also been made of the probable rate at which the revenues, arising to the Commissioners from corporate chapter property by reason of the suspension of canonries, will increase; and the result is, that an income may be safely expected from this source, amounting, in 1860, to 42,000*l*.

per annum, and reaching that point by considerable, though of course uncertain, increments.

It only therefore remains to provide at that date 8,000*l.* per annum more, from other sources ; and to show that the increments, by which the whole 50,000*l.* per annum will accrue, will meet the intermediate demand.

The estates now vested in the Commissioners are about one-third part in number of the whole ; and this proportion has fallen in eight years ; viz., since the passing of the first Suspension Act in 1835.

All the appointments to prebends, &c., by the vacancy of which these estates fall in, having of course been made prior to that date, it may not unreasonably be expected, that at least another third part, probably a much larger proportion, will fall during the interval between this time and 1860.

To this it may be added, that, although about one third part in number, the estates fallen do not amount to that proportion in value ; and moreover, that besides those upon lease which alone form the subject of Mr. Morgan's calculation, there are some estates actually in hand, and already producing 3,400*l.* per annum.

And again, the proceeds of sinecure rectories, already amounting to 2,400*l.* per annum, and ultimately estimated at above 14,000*l.*, should be taken into account.

It may be urged, with reference to the computed value of the estates at a given date, that, being an estimate of their value in reversion, it does not necessarily prove the then amount of available income.

It might be deemed a sufficient answer to this possible objection, to say, that it is enough, for the present purpose, to show such a value of property at the given date, designating, as it does, the market price of the reversion, as would enable the Commissioners, if their actual available income from general sources should not then amount to the required sum, to raise, by mortgage, whatever may be wanted, within the extent of the computed value ; but it is not necessary to rest solely on this answer, if the following further observations be well founded.

It is hoped that the Commissioners, in dealing with all the property property vested in them, will feel the advantage of leaving the questions of tenure and management entirely open, and unfettered by any strict rules. There will be, under such a course of proceeding, various modes by which, especially by their combined use, the reversionary value may in reasonable time be converted into an available income, without any improvident alienation or waste of church property, and without forcibly disturbing the present system of tenures, or violating the just claims of the lessees.

It may sometimes be for the convenience of a lessee, to purchase the reversion; and if a sufficient offer be made, it might be deemed right to accept it, under the restriction of treating the purchase money as capital; its re-investment in land at rack rent, and in stock ad interim, will thus at once produce income, proportionate to the full amount of the value of the reversionary interest sold. Or a similar result might be arrived at by the lessee joining with the Commissioners in a sale, to some third party desirous of possessing the property as contiguous to his own, or for some other reason; the purchase money being apportioned, and the share of the Commissioners being in like manner invested as capital.

Again, a lessee may be willing to part with his interest at a fair price; and in such a case the money received for the reversionary interest of estate A. (subject to a lease terminable at a remote and uncertain period), might be paid for the leasehold interest in estate B. (perhaps similarly situated), which would thus be brought into possession, and might be let at rack rent.

Virtually the same result, namely, converting the reversionary interest into annual income, would be attained by renewing the lease, and investing the fine.

Although, therefore, the estimate has been founded upon the calculated value of the reversion at a given date, it is obvious that, assuming a free but well-regulated and judicious system of management, that value does represent what at the same date would be, or may have been, made the produce of the property in proportionate annual income.

There will be some diminution of the computed value,

in 1860, of the estates which have formed the subject of Mr. Morgan's calculation, by the use of their proceeds, whether in rents of lands or dividends upon stock, in the meantime; and if these estates were the only security for the loan, it might be necessary to compel the re-investment of those proceeds, or to limit their use to the purposes of this particular Bill. Some allowance also, must be made for certain local claims upon property recognized by the Cathedral Acts. The great disproportion, however, of the whole property of the Commissioners, to the amount of the loan, amply provides for both these disturbing causes.

The general expediency of the arrangement seems to be unquestionable. By the convertible use of two kinds of property, viz., the stock in the hands of the Bounty Board, and the estates in the hands of the Commissioners, and by resorting to the capital in money as present income, substituting for it the capital in land which will produce future income, the great object of meeting present urgent wants is answered; the strict pecuniary result to the Church being precisely the same; because to whatever extent her annual income may hereafter be reduced, she will have profited, to the same extent, in the intermediate use of money, to meet a crying exigency; and so far as the clergy are concerned, whose augmentations are charged by the Bounty Board upon the borrowed stock, their security will be improving every year, as it gradually becomes converted from stock into land.

26th June 1843.

No. 20.

REPORT of the ESTATES COMMITTEE respecting the LEASEHOLD PROPERTY vested in the COMMISSIONERS.

Confirmed by the Board, at a Meeting held 15th April 1845.

THE Committee, on the 12th April 1845, resumed their deliberations upon the general question "as to the mode of dealing with Estates under lease," which was submitted to them by the Board, on the 18th July 1843; the further consideration of which was adjourned, at their sitting on the 2nd August following.

The Committee find that, in several cases, the leasehold interest has already been purchased by the Commissioners, and that a few reversions have been sold; that several other negotiations are pending of both kinds, and some also for arrangements in the nature of exchange by the lessees, namely, for the sale of their leasehold interest in a part of the property, and for the purchase of the reversion in the remaining part; and further, that some few offers, for the purchase of the reversion by the lessee, have been declined, for special reasons shown upon the Report of the Surveyor.

The Committee also find, that the only fixed rules, respecting the leasehold estates vested in the Commissioners, are those which, on the one hand, preclude the renewal of leases upon fines, and, on the other, protect the lessees from any sale or letting without first giving them an option.

No definite principle has, however, yet been laid down, respecting the general mode of dealing with the lessees; and it is still an open question, whether a compliance with the wishes of the lessees, to become the owners of the fee, is to be the general rule, subject to exceptions for special reasons; or whether, as a general rule, the sale is only to be conceded, if there are special reasons in its favour.

It is still also a point not clearly settled, whether the price required for a reversion is, as a general rule, to be regulated by some fixed principle of calculation.

The

The Committee are of opinion that it is highly important that the Commissioners should lay down such general rules for their own guidance, upon these several points, as may be consistent with a free exercise of discretion, in special cases; and they accordingly recommend the following resolutions to the Board, the two first being, substantially, the same as the Resolutions respecting renewals already alluded to:—

RESOLUTIONS.

1. That no lease for lives be renewed by the addition of a new life, nor any lease whatever upon consideration of a fine.

2. That no estate, which is subject to a lease when it becomes vested in the Commissioners, shall at any time be sold to any other than the person beneficially interested under the existing lease, until he shall have had the option of becoming the purchaser.

3. That every estate, already and hereafter vested in the Commissioners, shall, at the first convenient opportunity, be surveyed, and a full report made of its value, and of its circumstances with reference to the relative advantage of retaining or parting with it.

4. That the Commissioners, having taken such Report into consideration, shall, unless they find special reasons for not parting with the property, hold themselves prepared to entertain an offer for the purchase of the reversion, from the person beneficially interested in the lease.

5. That in all cases of the Commissioners declining to sell, an entry shall be made, upon their minutes, of the special reasons for their so declining.

6. That the price of the reversion shall be, as a general rule, the amount of the difference between the value of the whole fee, calculated as if the estate were actually in possession, and the value of the leasehold interest.

7. That, whether the Commissioners for any special reasons decline to sell, or the lessee decline to purchase, the reversion, the Commissioners shall hold themselves prepared, in any case, to purchase the leasehold interest at its market price, if the lessee be willing to sell the same.

8. That

8. That in any case in which the lessee shall have declined either to purchase the reversion, or to sell his leasehold interest, the Commissioners shall consider themselves free from any restraint respecting the sale or letting of the property

9. That tithes, and lands or other hereditaments, allotted or assigned in lieu of tithes, vested in the Commissioners, shall not in any case be sold, until due consideration shall have been had of the wants and circumstances of the places in which such tithes arise or have heretofore arisen.

SECOND GENERAL REPORT

TO HER MAJESTY,

FROM

THE ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS FOR ENGLAND;

WITH

AN APPENDIX.

Dated 10th June 1847.

SECOND GENERAL REPORT.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL COMMISSIONERS FOR ENGLAND, having on the 24th day of June 1845 presented to Your Majesty their First General Report, containing statements of their proceedings from the date of their incorporation, now humbly submit to Your Majesty a further Report, in continuation of those statements, and in the order, as nearly as may be, of that Report.

The Commissioners have prepared and laid before Your Majesty in Council many additional schemes, for carrying out various provisions of the Acts which regulate their proceedings; and copies of the Orders in Council, ratifying those schemes, have been laid before both Houses of Parliament, up to the end of the year 1846.*

In conformity with the provisions of the Act first passed,† some further changes have been made in the limits and extent of certain dioceses, which appear in the

* Parliamentary Numbers of printed papers containing the several Orders in Council.

House of Lords . . .		—	(27.) & (83.)
House of Commons . .		189.	345.

† 6 & 7 Will. IV. c. 77.

Appendix to this Report, No. 1.; and, under the authority of the same Act, the Commissioners have also proceeded to abolish peculiar and exempt jurisdictions, in the dioceses mentioned in the Appendix, No. 2.

After taking into consideration the returns alluded to in their First Report, the Commissioners have proceeded with the revision of Episcopal payments and receipts; and some of the alterations, made under that revision, have already come into operation. These alterations, as well as the general condition of the Episcopal Fund, will be seen in the Appendix, Nos. 3 and 4.

A statement of what has been done, within the last two years, respecting Episcopal residences, is given in the Appendix, No. 5.

The canonries suspended,—the non-residentiary prebends, dignities, and offices vacated,—and the sinecure rectories suppressed,—since the last statement, are respectively enumerated in the Appendix, Nos. 6, 7, and 8; and Accounts of the Income, which accrued from these and other sources to the Common Fund, during the years 1845 and 1846, and of the expenditure charged upon that Fund, with the amount of the Government stock, standing to the credit of the same fund on the 31st December 1846, will be found in the Appendix, Nos. 9, 10, and 11.

The Commissioners regret that they cannot yet report such an improvement of income, as would justify them in rescinding the resolution, passed in August 1844, for suspending further grants under their original resolutions respecting the augmentation of poor benefices.

The

The only additional grants now to be reported by the Commissioners, for augmenting income or providing houses of residence, are those made to meet local claims upon property vested in the Commissioners,—and to fulfil actual promises given by them. See Appendix, Nos. 12 and 13.

The Appendix contains further lists, Nos. 14 and 15, of districts, constituted and agreed to be constituted under the Church Endowment Act.*

The Commissioners stated, in their former Report, the reasons which induced them to recommend that no District should be endowed out of the funds intrusted to them by that Act, containing a population of less than two thousand : but where the whole required endowment of one hundred and fifty pounds per annum has been supplied from private sources, the Commissioners have agreed to constitute districts having a smaller population, and to assign the whole patronage to the contributing parties or their nominees.

The Appendix contains a General Summary, No. 16, of the districts, constituted and agreed to be constituted, in the several dioceses, from the passing of the Act in 1843 to the present time. Spiritual instruction and pastoral superintendence will thus have been provided for a population of above 764,000 souls.

The further applications for districts, with populations of two thousand and upwards, made to the Commissioners since the last Report, appear in the Appendix, No. 17.

The Commissioners were not able to bring to a satisfactory conclusion the negotiation for a further loan, alluded to in the First Report.

The Commissioners have made some further changes in the limits and in the endowments of archdeaconries. Appendix, Nos. 18 and 19.

They have increased the endowment of the University of Durham. Appendix, No. 20.

And, under the Act of 1842, they have, in several additional cases, sanctioned the granting of building and mining leases by ecclesiastical corporations. Appendix, No. 21.

All which is humbly reported to Your Majesty by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England.

In witness whereof the said Commissioners have hereunto affixed their common seal, this Tenth day of June, in the Year 1847.

† These Items do not include the whole Sums paid to the Solicitors, Surveyors, &c., but only so much as is carried to the Account of General Management; the remaining Payments being separately charged in the Books

Books of the Commissioners under their several Heads, in respect of the particular Transactions to which they relate. Thus, the Costs attending the Sale of an Estate are deducted from the Proceeds, and the net Amount invested; and the Costs attending a Purchase are in like manner added to the Purchase Money. The result is that a Portion only of the Payments are to be deemed a Charge upon the general Income of the Commissioners.

Note.—The Commissioners paid, in the Year 1845, 9,100*l.* 11*s.* 5*d.*, and in 1846, 16,449*l.* 8*s.* 5*d.*, for Endowments of Districts under Act 6 & 7 Vict. c. 37; but as these Endowments are, at present, a specific charge upon Capital, as provided by that Act, the Sums are not carried to the Debit of Income.

The Commissioners also paid, in the Year 1845, 3,320*l.* 8*s.* 2*d.*, and in 1846, 3,608*l.* 14*s.* 7*d.*, for augmenting the Incomes of the Deans and Canons of the poorer Cathedrals, those Sums being the whole of the contributions received from the charged Deaneries and Canonries of the richer Cathedrals.

Three per cent. stock belonging to the Common Fund, in the Name of the Commissioners on the 31st December 1846, 586,138*l.* 16*s.* 2*d.*

MEMORANDUM.—To explain the Amount of the Receipt Side of the Common Fund Account for 1846 as compared with 1845, and respecting the present Condition of that Fund.

The aggregate Receipts for 1846 amount to 33,963*l.* 9*s.* 2*d.*, showing a Decrease upon the Year 1845 of 351*l.* 4*s.* 2½*d.*, notwithstanding that additional Vacancies had occurred.

This circumstance is thus accounted for:—

	£.	s.	d.
1. Suspended Canonries, the Proceeds of which are necessarily fluctuating have fallen short in 1846	944	7	1
2. Sinecure Rectories have produced less than 1845, mainly in consequence of that Year having included an Arrear for St. Asaph Diocese of about 600 l.	664	18	11
3. The separate Estates of Deaneries and Canonries have been diminished by the Assignment of Tithes in recognition of Local Claims	157	3	4
4. The Interest and Dividends on Government and others Securities have been reduced by the Absorption of Capital Stock.	666	12	10
The total Diminution thus occasioned, is	2,433	2	2
On the other hand, Prebends and Offices in which the Vacancies chiefly occur, show an Increase of	£1,985	15	3½
And Archidiaconal Estates an Increase of	96	2	8
	2,081	17	11½

Leaving a Difference on the Receipt Side, as before stated, of	351	4	2½
To which add, on account of the increased Expenditure appearing on the other Side of the Account	2,718	10	6

Total Deficiency on the Year 1846	3,069	14	8½
Deduct Deficiency of 1845	1,862	0	5½

Difference between the Two Years, against 1846	1,207	14	3
--	-------	----	---

The recent Vacancies, however, enumerated in the Tables Nos. 6, 7, and 8, from which no Proceeds accrued in 1846, will yield fully 7,500*l.* per Annum; showing a probable Balance in favour of the Income Account, at the close of the current Year, of 2,000*l.* per Annum, after deducting the Amount of an Augmentation Scheme recently passed.
